

Local stars turn out for fundraiser

Churchlands Senior High School will play host to a chaplaincy fundraiser concert on June 17.

The event will feature performances from local artist and Andrew Winton, Trevor Jalla, Anna Dabbs and Madjazz.

All proceeds will go towards chaplaincy at the school.

Winton, who is also a chaplain at the school for the last 15 years, said the event would be great fun for the whole family.

“I’ll be playing some folky blues on my 13-string guitar, while Trevor will be playing some fantastic James Taylor covers,” he said.

“People will love the performances by 10-piece Churchlands SHS ensemble and soloist Anna Dabs.

“It will be a great evening of entertainment, which will also help support the three chaplains at the school – of which I am one of them!”
